FEMME FILM

The annual WOMANIMATION! mini-fest is a must-see event, celebrating female filmmakers from around the world and the boundless possibilities of animation. Toni Pennacchia, the creative director of MergingArts Productions, says, "A lot of animation can be pretty non-linear, but we make an effort to choose films where the visuals are serving the storytelling rather than being an end in themselves. From satire to drama, from the everyday to the surreal — in styles from traditional 2-D to stop-motion to computer animation — the festival features something for every taste." The sixth edition features 11 films from 10 countries (it runs for 80 minutes; hit the website for details on the works) will be shown at 95 Empire Black Box, 95 Empire St, Providence, at 5, 7, and 9 pm; Rachel Rosenkrantz-Riemer and DJ Madame B will entertain between screenings | $10 | mergingartsproductions.com
